Melham Corporation has been in business since 2013 under the previous company name. Then it was acquired by a private sector entity, which registered the name "Melham Construction Corporation" with the government. Melham signed a Memorandum of Agreement in 2017 with various businesses and organizations to do business and collaborate on different projects. Melham's sister companies, Anafara and Visvis, have signed a Memorandum of Agreement (MOA).

These companies have been accepting interns and providing them with valuable experience. By the year 2020, the internship program had been renamed "Unified Internship Program," or UIP, with the goal of providing a diverse range of internship programs to various partner schools and courses.

The Unified Internship Program (UIP) caters to the needs of the interns while they actively participate in meaningful projects while working closely with their mentor and senior leaders. It aims to create new leaders and equip these interns to compete in the corporate world.
